Improving transport in Edinburgh

Have your say

Easy Read

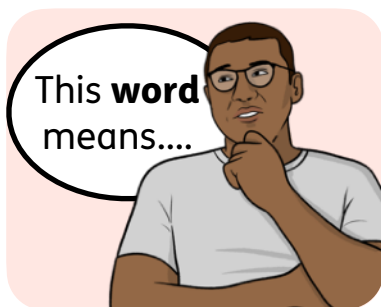

This is an Easy Read version of some information. It may not include all of the information but it will tell you about the important parts.

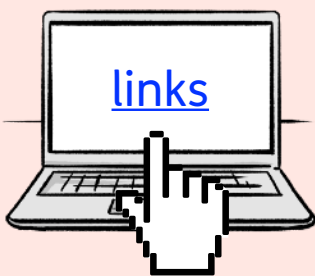

This Easy Read booklet uses easier words and pictures. Some people may still want help to read it.

Some words are in bold - this means the writing is thicker and darker. These are important words in the booklet.

Sometimes if a bold word is hard to understand, we will explain what it means.

Blue and underlined words show links to websites and email addresses. You can click on these links on a computer.

About this booklet

This booklet is from Transport for All.

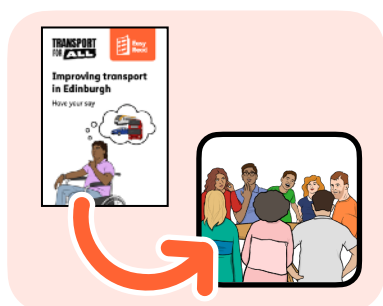

Many places in the UK are improving the transport services in their local areas.

Transport is how people travel around. It includes cars, buses, trains and trams.

We are running some workshops to find out how disabled people can be included in improving transport.

A workshop is a group meeting where people talk about or work on something together.

This booklet will explain what the workshops are about, and how you can take part in them.

About the workshops

The workshops will include:

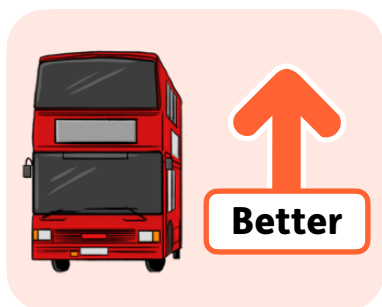

- Disabled people who live or regularly travel in Edinburgh.

- People who make important decisions in Edinburgh, like people who work in councils.

At the workshops, we will talk about:

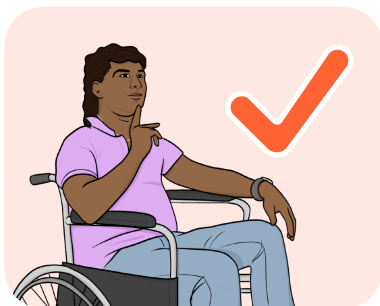

- How transport can be better for disabled people.

- How disabled people can be included in improving transport.

The workshops

You can take part in a workshop if you:

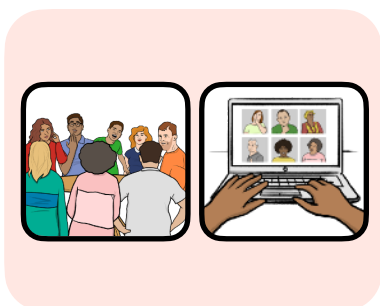

- Are disabled.

- Live in Edinburgh.

- Do not live in Edinburgh but often travel there, like for work.

The second day will be on Wednesday 19 February 2025.

On both days the workshop will:

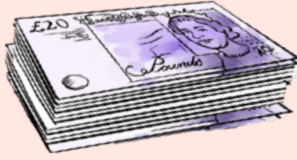

- Start at 10:00am and finish at 4:00pm.

- Take place in an accessible building in Edinburgh.

Accessible means it is easy to use and suitable for people with different needs.

You will be paid £150 for each day.

You must be able to take part in both days.

Online workshops

The online workshops will take 2 half days.

The first day will be on Wednesday 16 October 2024.
